William Anson Spencer, D.D.

Rev. William Anson Spencer, D.D., was born in Rock Island, Ill., October 6, 1840, and died in Philadelphia, Pa., September 25, 1901. As a fitting tribute to the memory of this eminent servant of God the editor of the General Minutes inserts the following minute adopted at a special meeting of the Board of Church Extension of the Methodist Episcopal Church, held at their rooms, 1026 Arch Street, Philadelphia, Pa., September 27, 1901:

Three times in its history the Board of Church Extension has been called to mourn the decease of its chief executive officer. The first time was when the Rev. Dr. S. Y. Monroe, its first Corresponding Secretary, exchanged "in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye," the mortal for the immortal life. The second time was when the Rev. Dr. Alpha J. Kynett, who in a very special sense may be said to have created the great Church benevolence whose affairs are supervised by the Board, passed within the veil after an illness of only a few hours. The third time is now present and marks the almost equally sudden departure of the Rev. Dr. William A. Spencer, who for the past sixteen years has gone in and out among us, devoting his time and talents and energies to promote the interests of the cause which is so near and dear to all our hearts.

Coming to the service of the Board in the autumn of 1885, to be the Assistant Corresponding Secretary in the place so long and ably filled by Dr. C. C. McCabe, now one of the bishops of our Church, who had been called to the service of the Missionary Society by the General Conference of 1884, Dr. Spencer found no light or easy task confronting him. He felt most keenly the responsibility which his office imposed, but entered the field with a firm resolve by the blessing of God to do all in his power to place the cause of Church Extension before the benevolence of the Church in the relation which its merits demanded. He shared with Dr. Kynett the anxieties of the office, the perplexities resulting from voluminous correspondence, the wear and fatigue of extensive travel, and the trials as well as the pleasures of Annual Conference visitations, and together they rejoiced in the steady and substantial gains which came as a reward to their faithfulness and zeal.

In 1892 the General Conference elected Dr. Spencer to the office of Corresponding Secretary. In this relation he worked coordinately with Dr. Kynett until the death of the latter, in February, 1899. From May, 1899, to the General Conference of 1900 he sustained the same relation to Dr. J. M. King, who had been chosen as the successor of Dr. Kynett. The General Conference of 1900 abolished the coordinate secretaryship, and elected Dr. Spencer Corresponding Secretary, placing upon him the full responsibility as the executive officer of the Board of Church Extension.

Dr. Spencer was a man of deep sympathy and had great love for his fellow-men. The moral and spiritual necessities of the people as he saw them stirred his soul to its profoundest depths. His appeals in behalf of the thousands of people on the frontier and in the mountain regions who were poor and without a church home were almost irresistible, and by them individuals and whole Conferences were wonderfully moved and induced to take advanced positions in regard to the great benevolent cause which he represented and whose claims he advocated.

It is appropriate, therefore, that the Board of Church Extension should record their appreciation of his personal character and valuable services. In the death of the Rev. William Anson Spencer, D.D., not only the Board of Church Extension, but the Methodist Episcopal Church, has been deprived of the services of a devout man, full of the evangelistic spirit, a faithful, energetic, and untiring officer, who spared not himself in any particular if the cause which rested upon his head and heart, and which meant so much to him in connection with the kingdom of our Lord Jesus Christ, might by his labors of self-sacrifice by any means be advanced.

We tender our deepest sympathy to his greatly bereaved wife and sons, with whom we will stand at the side of his bier, and to his beloved daughter, Clarissa, who, though denied the sad privilege of looking upon his face in the repose of death, is honored in a far-off heathen land as one who holds up the standard of the cross, the symbol of our faith and hope, both hers and ours. May the great Head of the Church, to whose image our brother aspired when he should "reach the more excellent glory," sustain these loved ones in their trial, comfort them in their sorrow, and bring them and us at the end of our pilgrimage to the land which death cannot enter and where sorrow is forever unknown.

Arthur Edwards, D.D.

Rev. Arthur Edwards, D.D., was born in Norwalk, O., November 23, 1834, and died in Chicago, March 20, 1901. When seven years old he came to Michigan to live with an uncle after whom he was named. Mr. Edwards sought to give his foster son a liberal education, and first sent him to the seminary at Albion, where he spent one year. He then went to Ohio Wesleyan University, from which institution he graduated in 1858. During the second year of his college course his uncle failed in business, and was compelled to leave him to his own resources. By determined effort and labor he succeeded. He experienced religion in 1852, and settled upon the Christian ministry as his calling.

A few weeks after his graduation he joined the Detroit Conference on probation, and was sent as second preacher to St. Clair. In 1859 he was appointed to Walnut Street City Mission, Detroit—now Simpson Church—and in 1860 to Saginaw City, and when the war opened the following spring he was appointed chaplain of the First Michigan Infantry. He served in this capacity until after the battle of Gettysburg. He was a true soldier of chivalric spirit. As a young chaplain he figured in eighteen battles, and was offered a colonel's commission. He won by his courage and fidelity the respect of the men and officers, not only of his own but other regiments. He is said to have been the most popular chaplain in the Army of the Potomac. In 1863 the Minutes record him as pastor at Trenton and Wyandotte, and in 1864 the Minutes place opposite his name "Assistant Editor of the Northwestern Christian Advocate—member of Central Church, Detroit, Quarterly Conference. In 1868 he was elected editor of the General Conference Daily Advocate, and it is said that the ability shown in this work had much to do with his election in 1872 as editor of the Northwestern Christian Advocate. He proved himself in every way adapted to this work. He served in this capacity probably longer than any other man in the history of our Church. It has been said of him, "He had the instinct of a news gatherer—his memory was excellent, his versatility unusual. In productiveness there were few who could be compared with him." He was enterprising; despised rest. "A man of untiring industry, power, ironlike endurance." He was a man of sunny nature, an excellent conversationalist, an incisive, facile writer.

His knowledge of the world and interest in Christendom made him the beloved brother and friend of all men. The Methodist Church claims him as her own, but other Churches consider him greater than any denomination. He was the helper of all. He filled many important places in the Church. In 1876 he served on the committee to revise the Church Hymnal. "No member of the committee seemed to have a finer sense of rhythm, or a clearer perception of what a hymn should be, or showed the results of a wider range of reading." He was delegate to the first Ecumenical Conference held in London in 1881. His paper upon "Status of Methodism in the Western Hemisphere" was received with great satisfaction. In 1884 he was member of the Centennial Conference in Baltimore. He was member of each session of the General Conference from 1872 to 1892, and again in 1900. He served as secretary of the Detroit Conference twelve years, and was reelected editor of the Northwestern Christian Advocate at the last session of the General Conference (1900).

He was married in 1866 to Miss Caroline Whithead, daughter of the late Rev. Henry Whithead. Three children were born to them. He had no fear of death, regarding it as transition from the temporal to the eternal habitation. His hope was in God, whose power and mercy could never fail. His confidence was in a Redeemer who had delivered his soul from sin and death, and had provided for his everlasting happiness in the presence of God.
